THE HICKMAN COURIER.

HICKMAN, KY.

of Fulton county.FOR REPRESENTATIVE,
F. K. R. N. C. K.,
of Hickman county.

FOR COUNTY APPRAISERS.

We are authorized to announce Mr. D. E. WILSON as a candidate for Appraiser of Common Schools for Fulton County, at the coming November election.

We are authorized to announce JAS. H. RICHMOND (present incumbent) as a candidate for Superintendent of Common Schools for Fulton County, at the November election.

FOR POLICE JUDGE.

We are authorized to announce DR. J. N. DUTTEN, as a candidate for Police Judge of Hickman, Kentucky, in November, 1893.

A CARD.

To the Editor of the Hickman Courier, I wish to express myself as a candidate for the office of Constable of your city, Election Tuesday, Nov. 3, 1893, as a Democrat of the largest day, but will accept no nomination for office from any party or individual, but will accept no nomination from any party or individual, but will accept no nomination from any party or individual.

We Shall See What We Shall See.

There is no doubting but that a very large majority of the business people of the United States believed that the Bureau was largely exaggerating with the existing depressed, penurious times, and that its report would restore business confidence and prosperity.

The Courier has felt that because these people believed this it would, of itself, contribute to prosperity when that came was removed. The repeaters held that the compulsory purchase of so much silver was dangerously undermining the honesty and soundness of our money, and that ultimately it would have brought the purchasing power of a dollar, issued to the people for 100 cents, to the market price of silver bullion, or about 60 cents, and thus prove an actual loss of about 40 cents on each dollar in the hands of the people who had given their property for it. The COURIER would have a sound, honest dollar, worth 100 cents, and would have a sound, honest dollar, worth 100 cents, and would have a sound, honest dollar, worth 100 cents.

The Silver Standard make dire predictions as to the effect of the silver dollar to result from this regulation, and what we see nothing to justify such awful predictions. We shall, on all, note results, and apply such remedies as experience proves necessary.

The country has been wrought up to a fearful state of excitement, which in our opinion is justified by the conditions, and those of people are writing and talking who are altogether unqualified to do so. This is a great country, of immense wealth, and the silver dollar is a sure to return as the sun continues to shine.

Chicago's Mayor Assassinated.

Carter H. Harrison, Mayor of Chicago, was assassinated at his home in that city, Saturday night last, about 9 o'clock, by a crank named Eugene Patrick Prendergast, a newspaper carrier. The reason assigned by Prendergast for shooting Mr. Harrison was that he had promised to give him a position and had failed to keep his word. The murderer is a young man about 21 years old. He called at the Harrison residence and asked to see the Mayor, and when that gentleman made his appearance he shot him three times. Mr. Harrison expired in about twenty minutes. Mr. Harrison was a Republican, and his death was a severe blow to the party in Chicago.

The man Prendergast, who killed Mayor Harrison, is clearly insane. He should be hanged, however, to prevent the kind of insanity from spreading.

Says the Chicago Herald: Had more than all that have to thank the president of the United States, who, through avenue and personal authority, heart by sympathy in his party on the one hand and through the same services on the other, with a splendid endorsement that will elicit his favor, fought the fight of financial integrity to a triumphant end and saved the nation from disaster.

Repeal at Last.

The Senate of the United States Monday, by a vote of 43 to 32, passed the Voorhees bill repealing the purchase clause of the Sherman act. For nearly three months has the struggle continued. It could have been passed long ago if there had been no method by which debate on it should in the Senate after all sides are heard. While the country will rejoice that repeal has been passed, one cannot fail to realize how much better it would have been had it been effected two months ago. The time wasted by Messrs. Stewart, Teller, and others has caused the country to be in a state of uncertainty. The issue is now simplified. In the congressional elections to be held next year the question of the free and unlimited coinage of silver will doubtless make an important factor in the result. In accordance with their views, the interest, however, will be sufficient to make the issue a matter of whether or not the present volume of money is sufficient for the needs of business. There will be an instant restoration of confidence and under the impulse all business will be revived. The night of commercial depression has ended and a new era of prosperity is ahead of America.

I have taken great care in selecting my stock of Men's and Boys' Fall and Winter Clothing, Gent's Furnishing Goods, Hats, Hosiery, Gloves, Handkerchiefs, etc. A complete new stock and first class. Look carefully, examination of quality, fit and price.

What Will They Do?

Suppose that eight or ten third party men were elected to the legislature, what could they do? They could not carry on one of the reforms of which they are incessantly in fact, they would not try. They would only sit and draw their pay and go home and complain of the democratic party for all the wrongs that were done.

What measures are now being proposed by the democratic party? The tax payer of the state! Can they name one, that the enacted law does not provide for the present condition of the people or save the state any expense? There is not a state in the Union that is not in a financial straits. In better condition than the state of Kentucky, which is now bankrupted, and some have regulated their contracts, but in every instance they are often governed by other political parties than the democratic. This State has been in a financial straits for time out of memory, and so if that party had been in control as now would have been as before instead of being in good condition, would have been the same.

The people, the tax payers, are not willing to make a change as long as the democratic party are in as good condition as they are now. If the republicans or people's party were in power and control of the Democratic party for time out of memory, and so if that party had been in control as now would have been as before instead of being in good condition, would have been the same.
